

Alpine Tabernacle Baptisms

By Mary Jane Turner Jex

The Alpine Tabernacle is the building where my father, Denzel Arthur Turner, was baptized in a pair of bib overalls. Back then they just had you take off your shoes and go into the fount to be baptized. Many of the children walked home in their wet clothes. That was why most of the baptisms were held in the spring, summer and fall. Winter children waited until spring.